

Projects. Images in this section represent a personal portfolio of work undertaken independently and while affiliated with firms. Architect was lead designer or a significant design contributor for all projects depicted herein.

In some categories (e.g., resort and hospitality) nearly all projects were produced collaboratively.

Of work undertaken while under the auspices of other firms, sketches, drawings, and plans were all received without restriction prior to the departure of the Architect, in accordance with AIA Code of Ethics Rule 5.303. Photographs were received in the same fashion, taken by the Architect himself, or are in the public domain.
